$38,000-plus raised at golf tournament

Mary's Shelter of the Treasure Coast hosted its annual golf tournament Dec. 13 to bring the community together and raise money to help the homeless, pregnant women who receive assistance from the organization.

The event was a success, raising more than $38,000 that will be used to provide expectant mothers living at Mary's Shelter with the educational tools and guidance they need to get their lives on the right path.

All expectant mothers ages 18 and older are welcome at Mary's Shelter regardless of race, religion or nationality. In addition to providing housing, the organization offers counseling, parental education, goal setting skills and job training free of charge to women in need.
